

REDmoney Research

REDmoney Research provides the opportunity for you to stay ahead via in-depth and exclusive research analysis on industry markets or sectors

- In-depth investment research and analytics support services across multiple asset classes
- Fund sales and marketing support services to asset managers
- Business analytics support to enterprises
- Research-on-demand service that covers project-based, client-specified research and analytics assignments
- Access to over 400 analysts worldwide
- Capabilities include thematic/sector research, model building, coverage initiation coverage maintenance, statistical analysis, and data gathering
- Reports provided in PDF format
- Option of hard copy, full cover reports
- All research is exclusive and produced to order

Front

Format

All reports are provided in soft format allowing you the flexibility to add or delete appropriately.

However, hard copy reports are available on request. REDmoney Research will manage any design changes. You may also request to include additional data, photographs, advertisements, statements and contact data.

Pricing

Through this exclusive collaboration REDmoney Research is able to deliver results at very competitive pricing. Each individual research report will be priced on the depth of its analysis, information availability and the geographies covered.

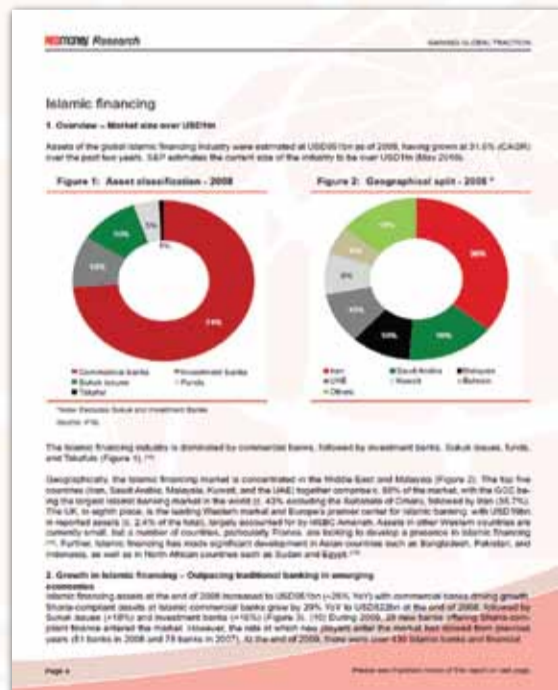

About REDmoney

REDmoney is a media company focusing primarily on the global Islamic finance market. The company was established in mid 2004 in Kuala Lumpur and initially rolled out two products: Islamic Finance training and Islamic Finance news. Since then, a range of other products have been introduced including conferences, print media, consulting and research. REDmoney is now widely recognized as the world's leading specialized Islamic finance publishing, information and media company. The company aims to grow with this exciting industry and provide the products the industry requires to evolve and become the mainstream financing alternative it deserves to be recognized as.

Services

REDmoney Research provides investment research and analytics support services across multiple asset classes, including global equities, fixed income and credit, and quantitative research. We also provide fund sales and marketing support services to asset managers and business analytics support to enterprises. For clients looking to temporarily augment in-house teams, we offer a research-on-demand service that covers project-based, client-specified research and analytics assignments.

Our quality is driven by strong processes in place for analyst recruitment, a CFA Institute-approved training program, and best-in-class project management practices. Our analysts have strong educational backgrounds as Engineers, MBAs, CFA charterholders, Chartered Accountants, and PhDs, and a passion for capital markets that is reflected in the quality of output.

*REDmoney Research is primarily, but not exclusively focused on the Islamic financial sectors

For more information or to request a quote, please contact:
Andrew Morgan
Managing Director, REDmoney Group

Andrew.Morgan@REDmoneyGroup.com
+603 2162 7800

Back